

HWeb Systems Monitor

The Hudson Group's mission is to bring the latest technologies to our clients and to make it simple to integrate and manage these new systems. HWeb Systems Monitor, is an invaluable tool that installs on your network and alerts Hudson instantly to critical systems or applications which are in need of attention and support.

If you are an information systems manager, your time is spent running from issue to issue, user to user, answering questions and fighting "fires." Gone are the days of having time to proactively manage and patch your many systems, let alone monitor instantaneous performance of your critical systems. If you are a small

HWeb Systems Monitor:

- Watches networks & remote hosts
- Sends customizable alerts

company, you may not even have somebody internally who handles your computer systems and it is only when something has failed, or after an important reservation has been missed do you discover a system process or application that has frozen, stopped responding, or been accidentally closed. This is where HWeb Systems Monitor comes to your aid. Like a night watchman making rounds, HWeb Systems Monitor keeps vigilant watch over your server and critical systems, even when you cannot. When a problem is detected, Hudson Tech Support will be immediately notified via customizable message that alerts us to where the problem is and what action is needed. Some processes can even be restarted automatically!

What does it watch? Server(s) status, available memory, CPU usage and more; if it is running on your servers, and is mission critical, HWeb Systems Monitor can be configured to include it in the list of watched items. Network and Internet connectivity checks, Database server connections, hard disk capacity, HWeb Bridges and other items will be automatically and continually checked, and the status logged. When attention is needed, a customizable alert is to sent to Hudson. With remote access to your server, Hudson Tech Support can review logs and restart services or machines as needed before problems become disasters! Is HWeb Systems Monitor protecting you yet?

When it absolutely, positively has to be up and running, use HWeb Systems Monitor to make it happen and keep everything at peak performance!
